

Christina Bohannon bragged about being a member of a gun control group that wants to curb your Second Amendment rights.

BACKUP:

Bohannon is a member of Michael Bloomberg’s gun control group Moms Demand Action; she supports expanding background checks and “red-flag laws,” and she praised legislation implementing a “one-handgun-a-month rule:”

- In June 2020, Bohannon said she “love[s] being a member” of Moms Demand Action and would work with them on “gun safety legislation” in Iowa.

- Moms Demand Action is a gun control advocacy group that supports background checks, “red flag” laws, and an “assault weapons” ban. “Moms Demand Action is a grassroots organization advocating for stronger gun control measures, founded as a Facebook group the day after the 2012 Sandy Hook Elementary School massacre that took the lives of 26 people, 20 of whom were young children. But while its members advocate for an assault ban, Moms Demand Action founder Shannon Watts says that it’s a ‘misnomer’ to call the group anti-gun... ‘This is simply about restoring the responsibilities that go along with gun rights,’ Watts said. She added that while the top priorities for Moms Demand Action are background checks, red-flag laws and disarming domestic abusers, the organization also advocates for an assault weapons ban and has worked with municipalities on the issue.” (Grace Segers, “Moms Demand Action founder says advocacy group is not anti-gun,” CBS News, 10/18/19)
- Moms Demand Action is “hosted under the umbrella of Everytown for Gun Safety, which [Michael] Bloomberg co-founded and largely finances.” “Former New York City Mayor Michael Bloomberg officially entered the 2020 Democratic race Sunday with a potent asset: The vast trove of email addresses amassed by Moms Demand Action, the nonpartisan gun control advocacy organization hosted under the umbrella of Everytown for Gun Safety, which Bloomberg co-founded and largely finances.” (Kara Voght, “Bloomberg Is Starting His Campaign With A Big Asset—His Gun-Control Group’s Email List,” Mother Jones, 11/24/19)

- Bohannon supports expanding background checks and “red-flag laws” that would involuntarily remove guns from those deemed a danger to themselves or others. “There is an urgent need and widespread support for common-sense gun safety legislation. Background checks and red-flag laws, which create a process for removing guns from those who are a danger to themselves or others, would be a good place to start.” (“Christina’s Policy,” Bohannon for Iowa, Archived 7/28/21)
- In April 2020, Bohannon celebrated the passage of five new gun safety bills in Virginia.

Today, one of the most meaningful and comprehensive gun safety packages in our country’s history was signed into law in Virginia—an astonishing five new gun safety bills, including background checks on all gun sales and an extreme risk protection order law.

These new laws are the end product of years of advocacy by our Moms Demand Action - VA volunteers and other gun safety advocates, and a shining example of what happens when we elect a Gun Sense Majority!

- Virginia passed bills including a “one-handgun-a-month rule.” “Advocates celebrated on Friday as Gov. Ralph Northam signed five bills into law that they say will help prevent gun violence. The Democratic governor signed one bill that requires background checks on all firearm sales in Virginia, and another that reinstates the one-handgun-a-month rule. He also signed a bill creating an extreme risk protection order, also known as a ‘red flag’ law, that says courts can allow police to temporarily remove guns from people considered a danger to themselves or others.” (Marie Albiges, “Northam signs 5 gun control bills into law,” The Virginian-Pilot, 4/10/20)
