Seth Magaziner loaned his 2014 campaign for Rhode Island General Treasurer $550,000 in “family money:”

- Seth Magaziner loaned his 2014 campaign for Rhode Island General Treasurer $550,000 in “family money.” “Seth Magaziner, the Democrat running for state general treasurer, told The Providence Journal Wednesday afternoon that $550,000 he loaned to his campaign came from earnings from his job and from ‘family money.’ Filings with the state Ethics Commission show that Magaziner had reported earning $50,001 to $100,000 in 2013 as a vice president at Trillium Asset Management LLC in Boston, raising the question of how he accumulated the $550,000 he told the state Board of Elections he had loaned to the campaign. ‘I’m very fortunate to come from the sort of background where I can make that kind of investment in my campaign,’ Magaziner told The Journal.” (Paul Edward Parker, “Magaziner says money loaned to campaign came from job, ‘family money,” The Providence Journal, 10/15/14)

- Magaziner called interest into the news of him lending $550,000 in “family money” to his 2014 campaign for Rhode Island General Treasurer, “an attempt to distract from the core issues.” “It’s an attempt to distract from the core issues of the office,” Magaziner said. “I want to bring the conversation back to what I think most voters care about, which is what are we going to do to get the state back on track.” (Paul Edward Parker, “Magaziner says money loaned to campaign came from job, ‘family money,” The Providence Journal, 10/15/14)

A Wikileaks release revealed that Ira Magaziner solicited donations from his “well-heeled friends” and Clinton allies like John Podesta in order to help fund then-28-year-old Seth Magaziner’s 2014 run for RI General Treasurer with “approximately $500,000”:

Editor’s Note: Ira Magaziner is Seth Magaziner’s father.*

- Ira Magaziner “helped bankroll his son’s general treasurer campaign, soliciting donations from powerful Clinton allies, including John Podesta.” “The elder Magaziner also helped bankroll his son’s general treasurer campaign, soliciting donations from powerful Clinton allies, including John Podesta, who was the chairman for former Secretary of State Hillary Clinton’s failed 2016 presidential campaign.” (Houston Keene, “Rhode Island Dem candidate faces ‘carpetbagger,’ ‘opportunist’ labels in growing competitive House race,” Fox News, 4/27/22)

Dear John:

I hope you are well.

I am writing to ask you for a personal favor.

My son Seth who is now 30 years old is running for Treasurer of the State of Rhode Island.

Seth graduated from Brown University, worked for two years teaching elementary school in rural Louisiana, graduated from the Yale School of Management and is now a Vice President at Trillium, an investment firm that manages funds for groups who wish to earn a good rate of return while limiting their investments to socially responsible companies.

While in college, Seth headed the Brown and Rhode Island College Democrats. He has been a leader in the recently successful marriage equality movement in Rhode Island, and is a member of several boards including the government watchdog organization Common Cause of Rhode Island and Cross Roads Rhode Island the largest supplier of services to homeless people in Rhode Island.

Rhode Island is beset with economic problems and Seth has many fresh, good ideas on how to help solve them as well as having the energy, intelligence and persistence to carry out those ideas.

I am partial of course, but I think he has all of my strengths without any of my numerous faults. I believe that if Seth can raise the requisite funds, he can win.

So as you probably guessed when you read the first sentence of this letter, I am asking you to consider donating to Seth's campaign. Individual donors can give up to $1,000 per calendar year and couples up to $2,000 per calendar year.

If you are interested, you can go to www.SethMagaziner.com and donate.

I would greatly appreciate your serious consideration of this request.

Thanks

Ira

- Ira Magaziner supported 28-year-old Seth’s “dream of becoming Rhode Island General Treasurer in 2014 by writing his well-heeled friends, as disclosed by WikiLeaks recently, asking each to donate thousands to Kid Magaziner’s campaign.” “As a father, I can understand Clinton Foundation Ira Magaziner’s wish that his 30 year old son Seth have a successful career. It’s touching—sort of—that Pappa supported his son’s dream of becoming Rhode Island General Treasurer in 2014 by writing his well-heeled friends, as disclosed by WikiLeaks recently, asking each to donate thousands to Kid Magaziner’s campaign.” (Edward Siedle, “WikiLeaks Exposes Ira Magaziner, Bill Clinton Helped Kid Magaziner Get Elected RI State Treasurer,” Forbes, 11/18/16)
- Ira Magaziner “knew exactly how much a promising bid for state treasurer requires—approximately $500,000—and made sure his Kid got from Pappa’s friends the funds needed to succeed.” “As a political insider, Pappa knew exactly how much a promising bid for state treasurer requires—approximately $500,000—and made sure his Kid got from Pappa’s friends the funds needed to succeed. I wish all fathers could afford to give their sons the same career kickstarter. Having Pappa Magaziner’s lifelong friend Bill Clinton campaign for his son surely helped.” (Edward Siedle, “WikiLeaks Exposes Ira Magaziner, Bill Clinton Helped Kid Magaziner Get Elected RI State Treasurer,” Forbes, 11/18/16)

“Magaziner succeeded in getting elected to public office” because “Pappa and friends handed him the opportunity” proving the “notion that a few wealthy, influential, over-educated families believe they and their progeny are destined to rule—even when they utterly lack skills desperately needed to solve a compelling social issue”:

- “Magaziner succeeded in getting elected to public office” because “Pappa and friends handed him the opportunity” proving the “notion that a few wealthy, influential, over-educated families believe they and their progeny are destined to rule—even when they utterly lack skills desperately needed to solve a compelling social issue.” “How Seth Magaziner succeeded in getting elected to public office is clear: Pappa and friends handed him the opportunity. What I find reprehensible is the notion that a few wealthy, influential, over-educated families believe they and their progeny are destined to rule—even when they utterly lack skills desperately needed to solve a compelling social issue—and the public, including retired state workers, be damned.” (Edward Siedle, “WikiLeaks Exposes Ira Magaziner, Bill Clinton Helped Kid Magaziner Get Elected RI State Treasurer,” Forbes, 11/18/16)

Ira Magaziner has served as a Clinton advisor for numerous organizations:

- Per Seth Magaziner’s Instagram, Seth Magaziner is the son of Ira Magaziner, former “Bill Clinton policy advisor.” (Seth Magaziner, Instagram, accessed 2/14/22)

(Seth Magaziner, Instagram, Accessed 2/14/22)

- Ira Magaziner was labeled the “godfather of Clintonomics” in a 1993 article from the Washington Post. “Although it was Bill Clinton who packaged these platitudes into a winning presidential campaign, nobody has been pushing them longer than Magaziner. As much as anyone, he is the intellectual godfather of Clintonomics. And he epitomizes the fortysomething idealists who dominate the Clinton meritocracy.” (Steven Pearlstein, “The Many Crusades of Ira Magaziner,” The Washington Post, 4/18/93)
- Ira Magaziner was a “Rhodes Scholar at Oxford” with Bill Clinton, had been put in charge of “trying to overhaul the nation’s health insurance system in 1993.” A Rhodes Scholar at Oxford with Mr. Clinton, Mr. Magaziner was put in charge, alongside the first lady, of trying to overhaul the nation’s health insurance system in 1993. Since 2002, he has spearheaded the Clinton Health Access Initiative, seeking to expand access to drugs and treatment to combat AIDS, malaria, tuberculosis and other diseases around the world. It was the Clinton Foundation’s premiere endeavor until the Clinton Global Initiative was created in 2005. (Maggie Haberman, “Reviews Reveal Divisions Within the Clinton Health Initiative, Starting at the Top,” The New York Times, 11/18/15)
- Ira Magaziner is the “Founding Chief Executive of the Clinton Health Access Initiative (CHAI)” which he founded after serving as a “Senior Advisor to President Clinton for Policy Development at the White House.” “Ira C. Magaziner is Founding Chief Executive of the Clinton Health Access Initiative (CHAI). In 2002, Mr. Magaziner co-founded CHAI with President Bill Clinton. From 1993 through 1998, he served as Senior Advisor to President Clinton for Policy Development at the White House. In this capacity, he supervised the development and implementation of the administration’s policy for commercialization of the Internet and worked with First Lady Hillary Rodham Clinton on the development of the President’s Health Reform Initiative. Mr. Magaziner also chaired a joint National Economic Council/National Security Council Initiative to increase US exports and served as a member of the National Domestic Policy Council. Mr. Magaziner is one of America’s most respected corporate strategists. Prior to his White House appointment, he built two successful consulting firms and worked for the Boston Consulting Group in Boston, London, and Tokyo, helping major corporations develop their business strategies. Mr. Magaziner graduated from Brown University as valedictorian of the class of 1969, and attended Balliol College, Oxford as a Rhodes Scholar.” (Corina Milic, “Ira C. Magaziner,” Clinton Health Access Initiative, 2/13/18)

- Ira Magaziner led the Clinton Health Access Initiative (CHAI) since its founding in 2002. “The Board of The Clinton Health Access Initiative (CHAI) is pleased to announce the appointment of Dr. Iain Barton as CEO of CHAI to succeed Ira C. Magaziner who has led the organization since its founding in 2002.” (Clinton Health Access Initiative, “CHAI Board announces appointment of Dr. Iain Barton as CEO in 2020,” Press Release, 12/9/19)
- Ira Magaziner stepped down from CEO of CHAI on May 1, 2020, agreeing to work as a senior advisor to the organization. “After Ira steps down as CEO on May 1, 2020, he has agreed to continue to work with CHAI for the foreseeable future as a senior advisor to Iain and to drive selected new programs.” (Clinton Health Access Initiative, “CHAI Board announces appointment of Dr. Iain Barton as CEO in 2020,” Press Release, 12/9/19)

Seth Magaziner’s wife, Julia McDowell, served as the “Program Director of Family Planning” at the Clinton Health Access Initiative:

- Julia McDowell served as the “Program Director of Family Planning” at the Clinton Health Access Initiative, where she “designed, launched, and led the organization’s first family planning program.” “Julia served as Program Director of Family Planning at the Clinton Health Access Initiative (CHAI), where she designed, launched, and led the organization’s first family planning program. She oversaw the implementation of pricing deals CHAI brokered with global pharmaceutical companies to make essential contraceptive products affordable, partnering with public health systems in sub-Saharan Africa to expand access to long-acting methods of contraception for millions of women.” (Social Enterprise Greenhouse, “SEG Board,” accessed 3/7/22)

Ira Magaziner has been documented as flying on convicted sexual predator Jeffrey Epstein’s plane multiple times:

- “Local press revealed in 2019 via WikiLeaks” that Ira Magaziner “had ties to the late disgraced financier Jeffrey Epstein.” “Additionally, local press revealed in 2019 via WikiLeaks that the Democrat candidate’s father, former Clinton adviser and ‘godfather of Clintonomics’ Ira Magaziner, had ties to the late disgraced financier Jeffrey Epstein.” (Houston Keene, “Rhode Island Dem candidate faces ‘carpetbagger,’ ‘opportunist’ labels in growing competitive House race,” Fox News, 4/27/22)
- In 2019, it was uncovered that Ira Magaziner had flown on Jeffrey Epstein’s plane in September of 2002 to Africa, and Dubai. “According to flight records, the senior Magaziner flew on Jeffrey Epstein’s plane numerous times. The flight records show that Magaziner flew with Epstein and Clinton in Africa, China, and Hong Kong. Magaziner has close ties to Clinton. During Clinton’s presidency, Magaziner was Senior Advisor for Policy Development leading the Clintons’ effort for a national healthcare policy. After his White House career, Magaziner chaired the Clinton Climate Initiative and the Clinton Foundation HIV/AIDS program, with its focus on Africa. One set of flights with Epstein was in September of 2002 in Africa that included a landing in Dubai.” (GoLocalProv News Team, “EXCLUSIVE: Sexual Predator Epstein Tied to RI’s Ira Magaziner, Father of General Treasurer UPDATED,” GoLocalProv, 8/13/19)

- Along with Ira Magaziner and Bill Clinton, “supermodel Naomi Campbell, and actors Kevin Spacey and Chris Tucker” were recorded on the flight log in 2002. “Besides Magaziner and Clinton, the flight log lists supermodel Naomi Campbell, and actors Kevin Spacey and Chris Tucker.” (GoLocalProv News Team, “EXCLUSIVE: Sexual Predator Epstein Tied to RI’s Ira Magaziner, Father of General Treasurer UPDATED,” GoLocalProv, 8/13/19)
- Ghislaine Maxwell was also recorded on Epstein’s plane with Ira Magaziner. “As GoLocal reported in 2019, Rhode Island General Treasurer Seth Magaziner’s father – Brown University alum and Clinton Health Initiative founding Chief Executive Ira Magaziner – flew with both Epstein and [Ghislaine] Maxwell, but refused to answer questions about the relationships. According to flight records, the senior Magaziner flew on Epstein’s plane numerous times. The flight records show that Magaziner flew with Epstein and Clinton in Africa, China, and Hong Kong.” (GoLocalProv News Team, “NEW: Epstein Associate Maxwell - Who Traveled With Ira Magaziner Repeatedly - Arrested By FBI,” GoLocalProv, 7/2/20)
