

Bill Hill Supports Reinstating Sanctions That The Biden-Harris Administration Put On Alaska's Energy Industry. He Has Even Gone To Say That Alaska Should "Get Off The Sauce" Of Oil.

Hill Said Alaska Needs To "Get Off The Sauce" And Implement Renewable Energy And Supports Measures That Would Revive The Biden-Era Energy Agenda

Hill Said Alaska Needs To "Get Off The Sauce" And Implement Renewable Energy.

"Congressional candidate Bill Hill joined Democrat US Senate candidate Mary Peltola for a Big Tent USA town hall, and used the appearance to call for moving Alaska communities away from oil and gas and toward renewable energy. 'For communities in Alaska, we need to get off the sauce and start implementing renewables,' he said." ("Bill Hill tells Peltola town hall Alaska must 'get off the sauce' of oil and embrace renewables,"

The Alaska Story, 8/27/26)

- Hill: "For Communities In Alaska, We Need To Get Off The Sauce And Start Implementing Renewables." ("Bill Hill tells Peltola town hall Alaska must 'get off the sauce' of oil and embrace renewables,"

The Alaska Story, 8/27/26)

Hill Called For Restoring Federal Renewable Energy Initiatives, Effectively Reviving The Biden-Era Green Energy Agenda. "Hill, who is running as a no-party candidate for Alaska's lone US House seat, but who is endorsed by the Alaska Democratic Party, also called for restoring federal renewable-energy initiatives dismantled by the Trump administration. That would effectively revive elements of the Biden-era green-energy agenda, including federal subsidies and tax incentives for renewable projects." ("Bill Hill tells Peltola town hall Alaska must 'get off the sauce' of oil and embrace renewables," The Alaska Story, 8/27/26)

- During The Biden Administration, Federal Agencies Restricted Or Attempted To Restrict Development Across Millions Of Acres In ANWR. "During the Biden administration, federal agencies restricted or attempted to restrict development across millions of acres in the National Petroleum Reserve-Alaska, canceled oil and gas leases in ANWR and imposed additional regulatory barriers on Alaska projects. At the same time, Washington poured taxpayer subsidies into wind, solar, electric vehicles and other favored renewable industries." ("Bill Hill tells Peltola town hall Alaska must 'get off the sauce' of oil and embrace renewables," The Alaska Story, 8/27/26)