The Department Of Defense Must Submit Written Notification To The House Appropriations Committee 30 Days Before Awarding Certain Defense Contracts

The Department Of Defense Is Statutorily Obligated To “Provide Written Notifications Of Certain Things To The Congressional Defense Committees 30 Days Before Awarding Or Initiating An [Multiyear Procurement] Contract, Or 10 Days Before Terminating One.” “10 U.S.C. 3501 states that to qualify for MYP, a program must meet several criteria, including the following: Significant savings or necessary industrial base stability. DOD must estimate that using an MYP contract would result in either "significant savings" compared with using annual contracting or "necessary defense industrial base stability not otherwise achievable" through annual contracting; Realistic cost estimates. DOD's estimates of the cost of the MYP contract and the anticipated savings must be realistic; Stable need for the items. DOD must expect that its minimum need for the items will remain substantially unchanged during the contract in terms of production rate, procurement rate, and total quantities; Stable design for the items. The design for the items to be acquired must be stable, and the technical risks associated with the items must not be excessive. 10 U.S.C. 3501 includes provisions requiring the Secretary of Defense or certain other DOD officials to find, determine, or certify that these and other statutory requirements for using MYP contracts have been met, and provisions requiring the heads of DOD agencies to provide written notifications of certain things to the congressional defense committees 30 days before awarding or initiating an MYP contract, or 10 days before terminating one. 10 U.S.C. 3501 also requires DOD MYP contracts to be fixed-price type contracts.” (“Multiyear Procurement (MYP) and Block Buy Contracting in Defense Acquisition: Background and Issues for Congress,” Congressional Research Service, Updated 9/12/25)

- “Congressional Defense Committees” Is Defined, In Part, As The “Committee on Appropriations of the House of Representatives.” “(16) The term “congressional defense committees” means—(A) the Committee on Armed Services and the Committee on Appropriations of the Senate; and (B) the Committee on Armed Services and the Committee on Appropriations of the House of Representatives.” (“10 U.S. Code § 101,” GovInfo, Accessed 10/3/25)
